How to use the bundle

1. Open the index on the next two pages and pick games by age and head count.
2. Print only the pages you need from the matching PDF: the "letter" folder for US Letter, "a4" for A4, always at 100%.
3. Card games: plain paper or light cardstock, cut on the dashed lines.
4. Posters, bingo cards and props print one per sheet.

4–30 players · 10 min

You need: one wrapped gift per player, one reader

Everyone sits in a circle holding one wrapped gift (or one gift travels round the circle). The reader reads the story aloud. Every time you hear LEFT, pass your gift to the left; every time you hear RIGHT, pass it to the right. When the story ends, you keep what you are holding.

Winner: Whoever holds the gift at the end. For a crowd, give everyone a small gift to start with.

It was the night RIGHT before Christmas, and the Wright family had LEFT nothing to chance. Grandma Wright had LEFT the turkey in the oven RIGHT on time, and Grandpa Wright had LEFT his glasses somewhere RIGHT under his nose. "We should have LEFT an hour ago," said Mrs Wright, pulling on her LEFT boot, then her RIGHT. The twins, Robin and Rosie Wright, had LEFT their coats in the car, which was parked RIGHT at the end of the drive, RIGHT where the snow was deepest. Halfway to the car, Robin turned LEFT at the mailbox and Rosie turned RIGHT at the snowman, and both of them were sure the other one was going the wrong way. "LEFT!" shouted Robin. "RIGHT!" shouted Rosie. Grandpa Wright, who had finally found his glasses RIGHT on top of his head, pointed straight ahead and said nothing at all. At Aunt Lily's house the lights were on, the door was open and the smell of gingerbread had LEFT the kitchen and filled the whole street. Cousin Max was RIGHT behind the door with a plate of cookies, and Uncle Pete had LEFT a trail of wrapping paper from the tree to the sofa. Everyone squeezed in: the Wrights on the LEFT, the cousins on the RIGHT, the dog RIGHT in the middle. Then Aunt Lily held up a box. "Whoever is holding this when the story ends keeps it," she said, "so pass it LEFT when you hear LEFT and RIGHT when you hear RIGHT." The box went LEFT. It went RIGHT. It went LEFT again, RIGHT into Grandpa's lap, where it stayed for exactly as long as it took him to notice. Outside, the snow had LEFT a clean white blanket over the drive, the car, and Robin's and Rosie's forgotten coats. Inside, nobody had LEFT the room, nobody wanted to, and the box was RIGHT where it should be: in the hands of whoever is holding it RIGHT now. Merry Christmas from the Wright family, and the LEFT family, and everyone RIGHT in between.

Gift Exchange Dice Game

Gift Exchange Dice Game

4–20 players · 20 min

You need: one wrapped gift per player, one die, this chart

Everyone brings one wrapped gift (set a price limit) and starts holding one. Take turns rolling the die and do what the chart says. Play three full rounds, then one last round where only a 2 or a 6 counts. When the last roll is done, the gift you hold is yours.

Winner: Nobody and everybody: it is the swapping, not the winning. House rule: a gift that is stolen twice is locked and cannot move again.

1 Pass your gift to the player on your LEFT.	2 Swap gifts with anyone at the table.	3 Everyone passes their gift one seat to the RIGHT.
4 Unwrap your gift (if it is still wrapped) and show it round.	5 Keep what you have; the next player rolls.	6 Steal any unwrapped gift. Its owner takes yours.

Family variant: roll 4 opens the gift, and children under six may always keep what they open.
